If Christ meant to qualify His statements, could He not have done so? If He did not mean what He said, why should He not have said what He did mean? Further, was it not the actual understanding of the disciples that their Lord's command laid upon them this obligation? We do not say that this obligation was universally discharged. It was not. But it was an obligation recognized by the leaders of the Church and discharged by the majority of the Church's members. In the missionary activity of the early Church, we have one of the strongest arguments for missions to be found anywhere. One of the greatest authorities on the history of the early Church says, It was not merely the confessors and martyrs who were missionaries. It was characteristic of this religion...
